Message For Author

Authors must correct the manuscript following reviewer's suggestions. The authors examined VEGF and PDGF-AA concentrations in the vitreous and serum in patients with RRD. This study is overall interesting and well done. I have some concerns about this manuscript.

1. In comparison between RRD and normal controls, Mann-Whitney U test should be applied, but not t-test.
2. What are pericidal glial cells described in Discussion? The authors should explain more.
3. The authors do not need to show the abbreviation of PVR again in discussion section.
4. Several grammatical errors are seen in the manuscript, which should be amended.
