Researcher has selected approximately 115 Webinar Poster in which disseminated in Telegram application then try to identify location where language mixing occur. This action was taken in reason that language mixing may considered related to Code Switching. In order to make it easier for knowing location of Code Switching, researcher need to divide part of Poster into three parts those are:

- 1) Section A = Theme and title
- 2) Section B = Important Information such as time, location, contact, fee, and speakers details.
- 3) Section C = Sponsor and any additional parts such attractive word, phrase, and sentence. In example, “let’s join now,” “regist now!”, etc.

As result, researcher found that 91,3% of total Webinar Poster Posters contain Indoensian-English language mixing. Most of them occured on B section where important informations about event were located.

After identifying English code within the data, it is found that 105 of 115 data were eligible for this research. Data eligibility were determined by the existence of Indonesia-English code within. Meanwhile, 10 of 115 can not be used. Those unused data contain information in one code only either in Bahasa or English and rest of theme were accidentally duplicated, therefore those data need to be discarded. Eligible posters for research were labelled green and non-eligible poster were labelled red.
