

REFERENCES

- Coates, J. (2004). Women, men and language: A sociolinguistic account of gender differences in language. Routledge. <https://www.pdfdrive.com/women-men-and-language-a-sociolinguistic-account-of-gender-differences-in-language-e185192883.html>
- Crawford, M. (1995). Talking difference: On gender and language. SAGE. https://openlibrary.org/works/OL2996433W/Talking\_difference?edition=ia%3Atalkingdifferenc0000craw\_v3a9
- Creswell, J. W. (2014). Research design: Qualitative, quantitative, and mixed methods approaches (4th ed.). SAGE. <https://www.pdfdrive.com/research-design-qualitative-quantitative-and-mixed-method-approaches-e186455788.html>
- Creswell, J. W., & Clark, V. L. P. (2017). Designing and conducting mixed methods research (3rd ed.). SAGE Publications. <https://www.pdfdrive.com/designing-and-conducting-mixed-methods-research-e196908993.html>
- Eckert, P., & McConnell-Ginet, S. (2003). Language and gender. Cambridge University Press. <https://4u1dzbpzp7.pdcn1.top/dl2.php?id=184340661&h=ddb05c3ee587313e2d1e9feb13dcd99a&u=cache&ext=pdf&n=Language%20and%20gender%20cambridge%20textbooks%20in%20linguistics>
- Guemmadi, I., & Akermi, I. (2021). A sociolinguistic analysis of females' language features used by oprah winfrey in same and Mixed-Sex group communication [Dissertation, Larbi Tébessi University -Tébessa]. <http://dspace.univ-tebessa.dz:8080/xmlui/bitstream/handle/123456789/2906/A%20Sociolinguistic%20Analysis%20of%20Females%27%20Language%20Features%20used%20by%20Oprah%20Winfrey%20.pdf?sequence=1&isAllowed=y>
- Handyanta, A. (2018) Lakoff's women's language features used by Michelle Obama in the next generation of woman video [Thesis, Sanata Dharma University]. USD Repository. <http://repository.usd.ac.id/id/eprint/30963>
- Holmes, J. (2008). An introduction to sociolinguistics (3rd ed.). Pearson Longman. https://openlibrary.org/books/OL23157026M/An\_introduction\_to\_sociolinguistics

- Holmes, J. (2013). An introduction to sociolinguistics (4th ed.). Routledge.
<https://books-library.website/files/books-library.online-12261846It2H7.pdf>
- Holmes, J., & Meyerhoff, M. (Eds.). (2003). The handbook of language and gender. Blackwell Publishing Ltd.
http://www.carinadizonmaellt.com/socweb/pdf/the\_handbook.pdf
- Jakobsson, S. (2010). A study of female language features in same - sex conversation (Publication No. hig-8069) [Thesis, University of Gävle]. DiVA at University of Gävle. <http://hig.diva-portal.org/smash/record.jsf?pid=diva2%3A375135>
- Kartika, F. N. (2015) Women Linguistic Features Used By Oprah Winfrey In Same-Sex And Cross-Sex Communication [Thesis, Universitas Airlangga]. UNAIR REPOSITORY. <https://repository.unair.ac.id/14628/>
- Lakoff, R. T. (1975). Language and woman's place. Harpercollins College Division.
https://openlibrary.org/books/OL5062356M/Language and woman's place
- Naovarattanakorn, P. (2017). A critical discourse analysis of women's language features used in an animated movie (Publication No. 139775) [An independent study paper, Thammasat University]. Thammasat University Digital Collections. http://ethesisarchive.library.tu.ac.th/thesis/2017/TU\_2017\_5921040266\_8994\_7180.pdf
- O'Barr, W. M., & Atkins, B. K. (1980). "Women's language" or "powerless language"? In S. McConnell-Ginet, N. Borker, & R. Thurman (eds.), Women and Language in Literature and Society, New York: Praeger, 93-110.
- Pamekasih, A. T. K. (2017) The comparison of women`s language use between Ellen De Generes and Oprah winfrey in their conversations with Michelle Obama in talks shows [Thesis, Sanata Dharma University]. USD Repository. <http://repository.usd.ac.id/id/eprint/10962>
- Patton, M. Q., & Cochran, M. (2002). A guide to using qualitative research methodology.
https://www.academia.edu/10433666/A Guide to Using Qualitative Research Methodology
- Rasinger, S. M. (2010). Quantitative methods: Concepts, frameworks, issues. In L. Litosseliti (Ed.), Research methods in linguistics (pp. 49-67). Continuum International Publishing Group.

https://www.academia.edu/29875281/Research\_Methods\_in\_Linguistics\_Litosseliti\_Continuum\_2010\_pdf

Thomas, L., Wareing, S., Singh, I., Peccei, J. S., Thornborrow, J., & Jones, J. (2004). Language, society and power: An introduction (I. Singh & J. S. Peccei, Eds.; 2nd ed.). Routledge.

Wardhaugh, R. (2005). An introduction to sociolinguistics (5th ed.). Blackwell Publishing Ltd.
<http://staffnew.uny.ac.id/upload/132107096/pendidikan/Book+for+Sociolinguistics.pdf>

Zohrabi, M. (2013). Mixed method research: Instruments, validity, reliability and reporting findings. Theory and Practice in Language Studies, 3(2).
<https://doi.org/10.4304/tpls.3.2.254-262>

APPENDICES

No.	Data	Features	Functions
1.	You did it.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used the correct pattern of simple past tense in this utterance. The use of the standard language was to show politeness and be formal according to the situation.
2.	Thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you.	Superpolite Forms (5)	As Lakoff said, women must frequently use terms such as thank you to maintain social conventions. At the beginning of her speech, Oprah said thank you repeatedly to the audience as a form of politeness because she had been applauded when going up to the podium to deliver her speech.
3.	Thank You Wallis Annenberg	Superpolite Forms (1)	Super polite form is found in this sentence and described by the use of the word thank you . Oprah thanked Wallis as CEO of Annenberg as well as the one who had called Oprah to come forward. It indicated that Oprah showed politeness and gratitude.
4.	and a special thank you to Dean Willow Bay for inviting me here today.	Superpolite Forms (2)	Oprah said thank you to Willow Bay for inviting her to the graduation ceremony. Moreover, as a form of politeness and respect, Oprah called Willow Bay by pinning her title as dean of USC Annenberg.
5.	and to the parents again I say and faculty, family, friends, graduates: Good morning .	Superpolite Forms (1)	To start Oprah's content of her speech, she greeted by saying good

			morning to the audience. It is a kind of politeness and ethic when starting a communication.
6.	I wanna give a special shout out because uhh I was happy that Dean Bay invited me, but I was gonna be here anyway.	Hedges or Fillers (1) Hypercorrect Grammar (1) Empty adjectives (1)	The fillers uhh in this utterance show that Oprah needs time to think about her following statement. It means she wants to give a proper word to avoid a rude statement. Hypercorrect grammar is also found in this utterance. It showed that Oprah used the correct pattern of simple past tense. The use of hypercorrect grammar was mainly to express politeness so can avoid rude words. Moreover, this utterance also consists of an empty adjective that is described by the use of the word happy. Oprah said that she was happy about Dean Bay's invitation. The use of this empty adjective shows her emotional reaction about her happiness because of being invited to the event by Dean Willow Bay.
7.	Because one of my lovely daughter girls attends the Annenberg School of Journalism and is getting her master's today.	Empty Adjectives (1) Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	The empty adjective lovely was used by Oprah to show an emotional reaction from a mother to her daughter. Furthermore, this utterance showed that Oprah used standard language which was indicated by the use of correct tenses. Oprah used the correct pattern of simple present tense and present continuous. In general, these features were used to show politeness.

8.	So I was coming in whether I was speaking or not	Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	According to Lakoff, women are viewed as being the preservers of literacy and culture by using the standard of language. It can be seen from this utterance that shows the correct pattern of past continuous tense which is subject + was/were + present participle (verb+ing). The use of hypercorrect grammar can avoid harsh language.
9.	and it was the first year that I was looking for smart, bright, ahh giving, resilient , kind, openhearted girls who had it that factor that means that you keep going no matter what.	Hedges or Fillers (1) Hypercorrect Grammar (3) Emphatic Stress (1)	The fillers uhh in this utterance aim to give time to Oprah to consider the following word that will best relate to the preceding term. In short, the use of fillers in Oprah's speech serves to give a moment to think in order to give a good idea or word so as to avoid a rude statement.  Moreover, Oprah used three different types of hypercorrect grammar in this utterance. Oprah used the correct pattern of past continuous. Moreover, the use of the word resilient which was at the C2 level which is the highest level show that Oprah is being

			formal by using the proper word. In addition, Oprah used the standard form of going instead of goin'. Oprah used hypercorrect grammar because she wanted to be formal and polite considering that she was giving a speech in the formal event. Emphatic stress is also found in this utterance. the emphasis on the word it refers to the factors mentioned by Oprah earlier. This emphasis aims to clarify and convince audiences that these factors are important.
10.	and uhh This was the year that I chose everybody individually	Hedges or Fillers (1) Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	Oprah's use of fillers in this sentence, such as uhh, indicates that she needs some time to consider what she will say next. Oprah also used hypercorrect grammar which is characterized by the use of correct patterns of simple past tense and the use of C2-level words which was individually. The use of hypercorrect grammar is to show politeness and respect.
11.	and I remember her walking into the office in a little township where we were doing interviews all over South Africa	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The use of correct grammar just showed that Oprah was placing herself in a formal situation where it will be more polite and respectful if she spoke with the standardized and correct language.

12.	and she came in and recited a poem about her teacher.	Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	Being in formal situations, Oprah tended to use correct tenses to show her respect and politeness to the audience.
13.	And when she walked out the door I go "that's an 'it' girl, Thando Dlomo, I am here to say I am so proud of you!	Intensifiers (1) Empty Adjectives (1)	the word proud is followed by the intensifiers so which aim to emphasize the word "proud". It means that Oprah is really proud of what Thando Dolomo has done in her education.  Moreover, the use of the empty adjective proud was to show Oprah's emotional feeling toward her daughter and express her admiration because she is already at that stage of life.
14.	Long way from the township in South Africa and her aunt has flown 30 hours to be here for this celebration today.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Hypercorrect grammar is typically used in formal situations. Therefore, Oprah which was delivered a speech in formal situations, tend to use the correct pattern of tenses. It was because she respected the unknown audiences and showed politeness as well.
15.	Thank you so much.	Superpolite Forms (1)	Oprah uttered thank you so much to show her gratitude to Thando Dlomo's aunt because she has flown many hours just to celebrate Thando's graduation day.
16.	Everything around us including and in particular the internet and social media is now being used to erode trust in our institutions.	Emphatic Stress (2) Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	This utterance tells about some factors that impacting to institutions. Oprah emphasized the word particular which

			refers to the cause (internet and social media) and the word erode which refers to the effect, to attract audiences' attention so they could capture the point of cause and the effect. This utterance also consist hypercorrect grammar feature. Oprah is formal, polite and respect by using the highest level of word which is erode. It is because the formal situation when she delivered the speech.
17.	Interfere in our elections	Emphatic Stress (1)	The use of emphatic stress is to strengthen the utterance so the audiences can pay attention and take the point of the utterance.
18.	and wreak havoc on our infrastructure.	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah emphasize the word havoc to assure the audience about the point of the utterance.
19.	It hands advertisers a map to our deepest desires.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Delivering a speech in formal situation requires the speaker to speak formally and that was Oprah did. In order to speak formally, Oprah used the correct pattern of verb. This utterance showed that Oprah use the correct pattern of simple present tense. The use of this hypercorrect grammar is to show respectful and politeness to the audience.
20.	It enables misinformation to run rampant,	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	This utterance showed the correct pattern of simple present tense. Oprah used the correct grammar because considering the situation which formal situation so she need to be formal dan polite.

21.	and false stories from phony sites	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah tend to emphasize her utterance when she need to attract the audience to pay attention on the point of the utterance.
22.	to run circles around major news outlets.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used words that are more formal and standard due to the situation she delivered her speech.
23.	We have literally walked into traffic while staring at our phones.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1) Intensifiers (1) Emphatic Stress (1)	Hypercorrect grammar used to show politeness by using standard form of language. This utterance consist hypercorrect grammar which characterized by the use of correct pattern of present perfect tense. This utterance also consist of intensifiers. The use of intensifiers literally is to modify the word walked. It indicates that Oprah wanted to convince the audience about what she said. Similarly, Oprah emphasize the word walked to strengthening her utterances. Oprah wanted to make the point clear so the audience can capture the meaning of her utterance.
24.	Many of your parents are probably taking you somewhere really special for dinner tonight	Hypercorrect Grammar (1) Intensifiers	Oprah used the correct pattern of present continuous which is S+to be+present participle. It

		(1) Empty Adjectives (1)	implies that Oprah respect and show politeness due to the fact that she was in formal speech. The intensifiers really is to modify the word special. Oprah wanted to emphasize the word special which means it is not just special but really special. Oprah used the empty adjective special to express her emotional reaction. She wanted to tell that the dinner is not just an ordinary dinner but more than that.
25.	Now that I've presented some of the bad news, the good news is that there really is a solution	Intensifiers (1) Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah used intensifiers and emphatic stress to emphasize her utterance in order to assure the audience.
26.	because you will become (simple s+will+vbase) the new editorial gatekeepers, an ambitious army of truth-seekers who will arm yourselves with the intelligence, with the insight and the facts necessary to strike down deceit.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1) Emphatic Stress (1)	Hypercorrect grammar typically used in formal situation and because Oprah delivered her speech in formal situation, she used the standard form which is correct pattern of simple future tense. The use of standard form is to show polite and respect to the audience. Moreover, this utterance consist of emphatic stress feature. Oprah emphasize the word facts to sthngthen the utterance so the audience can take it seriously.
27.	Because you can push back	Emphatic	Oprah emphasize the

		Stress (1)	phrase push back to attract audience's attention so they can understand that that phrase is the point of the utterance.
28.	and you can answer false narratives with real information and you can set the record straight	Hypercorrect Grammar (1) Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah used standard word due to the formal situation she delivered the speech. She wanted to be polite, formal and respect to the audience. Emphatic stress used to strengthen the utterance so the audience can get the point of the utterance.
29.	And you also have the ability and the power to give a voice as Dean Bay was saying to people who desperately now need to tell their stories and have their stories told.	Superpolite Forms (1) Intensifiers (1)	The use of super polite forms to show politeness. In order to be polite, Oprah add the status as Dean when mention Willow Bay. So, she was just not called Willow Bay but Dean Willow Bay. Furthermore, Oprah also used intensifiers desperately to emphasize the word need. In this context, the intensifier desperately showed that those people really need help. Oprah used this intensifier to make a strong statement so that the point of the utterance can delivered to the audience.
30.	if you can just capture the humanity of the people, of the stories that you are telling,	Intensifiers (1)	The use of the intensifier just in this utterance modifies the word capture to make the meaning of thatt word stronger so that the audience can take the point seriously.

31.	And you could confront your bias	Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	Oprah used the highest level of words in her utterance which are the word confront and bias to show politeness and formality during her speech in formal occasion.
32.	and you can build your credibility , and hone your instincts and compound your compassion.	Hypercorrect Grammar (2) Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah used standard vocabulary because of the formal setting in which she gave the speech. She tried to maintain a sense of formality and respect for the audience.  Emphatic stress used to strengthen the utterance so the audience can get the point of the utterance.
33.	You could use your gifts that's what you're really here to do to illuminate the darkness in our world.	Intensifiers (1) Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah used intensifiers really to emphasize her utterance. Similarly, Oprah emphasize the word illuminate to make the audience assure about what she said.
34.	this is your time to rise	Emphatic Stress (1)	The use of emphatic stress here to convince the audience so they can get the point of the utterance.
35.	people are talking about how bad things are	Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	This utterance consist of two kinds of hypercorrect grammar. The first one is the use of the correct pattern of present continuous tense. The second is the use of the word talking about which is standard word which is in C2 level. Hypercorrect grammar is used to show politeness and respect.
36.	What I've learned all these years is that we're not supposed to match it or even	Emphatic Stress (3)	Emphatic stress is found three times in this utterance. Oprah used

	get locked into resisting or pushing against it.		emphatic stress to strengthen her utterance so the audience can get the point of the utterance
37.	and that is how you overcome the sniping at one another, the trolling, the mean-spirited partisanship on both sides of the aisle, the divisiveness, the injustices and the out-and-out hatred .	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah used emphatic stress to indicate the importance of her utterance so the audience can pay attention to that point.
38.	You use it.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used the correct pattern of simple present tense to indicate that she respected and was polite to the audience.
39.	Use this moment to encourage you to embolden you and to literally push you into the rising of your life.	Emphatic Stress (3) Intensifiers (1)	This utterance contains three of emphatic stress and an intensifiers. Oprah used these emphatic stress to convince the audience so they can get the point of the utterance. Besides, Oprah also used intensifiers literally to strengthen the point of the utterance.
40.	And to borrow a phrase from my beloved mentor Maya Angelou 'Just like moons and like suns with the certainty of tides just like the hopes springing high you will rise.'	Empty adjectives (1) Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used empty adjective beloved to address her mentor, Maya Angelou. She expressed her emotion and feeling to her favorite person.  Oprah is being formal by using the word springing , which is at the C2 level, which is the highest level.
41.	and use what you've learned to challenge the left, to challenge the right and the center.	Emphatic Stress (1)	The emphasis of the word use was to convince the audience especially the graduates that they need to literally use what they have got in

			university. Oprah emphasize the word use to attract graduates' attention.
42.	When you see something, you say something and you say it with the facts and the reporting to back it up.	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah emphasize the word facts to make point of her utterance. She wanted the audience to pay attention to that word and understand its point.
43.	You make the choice every day, every single day to exemplify honesty because the truth, let me tell you something about the truth,	Emphatic Stress (1) Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The word exemplify in this utterance contains hypercorrect grammar and emphatic stress at the same time. The emphasis of that word was used to strengthen the important point of the utterance. In addition, the word exemplify also one of the word at the highest level of C2. The use of this hypercorrect grammar was to respect the audience by using proper and correct word.
44.	the truth exonerates	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah stressed the word exonerates to draw attention from the audience to the significance of what she was saying.
45.	and it convicts.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used the standard and proper word due to her formal speech so she need to be formal and polite.
46.	It disinfects and it galvanizes.	Emphatic Stress (2)	Oprah employed emphatic stress to word disinfects and galvanizes to emphasize the point of her statement so that the audience would pay attention to it.
47.	The truth has always been and	Hypercorrect	This utterance contains

	will always be our shield against corruption, our shield against greed and despair.	Grammar (2) Emphatic Stress (1)	two features i.e hypercorrect grammar and emphatic stress. The use of hypercorrect grammar was to show politeness and formality due to the formal situation when she delivered her speech. It indicated by using the correct pattern of present perfect and simple future tense.  In addition, Oprah emphasize the word shiel to show the point of the utterance so the audience could pay attention to it.
48.	And not only are you here USC Annenberg to tell it, to write it, to proclaim it, to speak it, but to be it.	Emphatic Stress (5)	Oprah used emphatic stress almost in whole utterance. It is because this utterance contains some important word that need to be emphasized so the graduates could pay attention then take it seriously.
49.	Be the truth! Be the truth!	Emphatic Stress (4)	Oprah emphasized all the words in this utterance even some are stressed word by word. Moreover, Oprah repeat the phrase twice. It means that Oprah wanted to strengthen her utterance in order to convince the graduates that it was what they need to do.
50.	And I can tell you I've hosted on the Oprah Show for 25 years, the number one show, ahh never missed a day never missed a day.	Hedges or fillers (1)	In this utterance, Oprah used fillers ahh to give her time to think for the next statement so she could delivered the proper statement.
51.	But I was a little intimidated coming here because	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Delivering a speech in formal speech required

	graduations. uh... it's tough.	Hedges or fillers (1)	Oprah to use standard form to show her attitude and formality. Here, Oprah used the correct pattern of past participle. It can be seen from the structure of the sentence which is s+be (was)+past participle. Moreover, hedges or fillers also appeared in this utterance. Oprah used this fillers to pause for a moment to think the next idea. It indicated that Oprah wanted to avoid a rude statement.
52.	So I'm here to really tell you I don't have any new lessons	Intensifiers (1)	Oprah used the intensifiers really to modify the word tell to convince the audience. It means that she really wanted to tell.
53.	but I often think that it's not the new lessons,	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used hypercorrect grammar to indicate the formality and respect. She tend to use correct pattern of simple present tense.
54.	but so much as it is really learning the old ones again and again	Intensifiers (1)	Intensifiers was used to emphasize the speaker's utterance.
55.	There's gun violence and there's climate change and systemic racism, economic inequality , media bias .	Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	Oprah delivered the speech in a formal setting, therefore she utilized standard language. She aimed to be formal, polite, and respectful of the audience.
56.	the addicted need treatment, the Dreamers need protection, the prison system needs reforming ,	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah showed her respect and formality by using hypercorrect grammar such as highest vocabulary when gave speech in formal event.

57.	the LGBTQ community needs acceptance ,	Emphatic Stress (1)	Emphatic stress was used to ensure that the message is received and responded by the audience. Oprah stressed the word acceptance because it was the point of her utterance.
58.	the social safety net needs saving and the misogyny needs to stop .	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah stressed the phrase need to stop to indicate that it was the point so the audience could pay attention to it.
59.	it'll cloud your clarity . It'll compromise your integrity , it'll lower your standards, it'll choke your empathy And sooner or later,	Hypercorrect Grammar (3)	Oprah used the three terms clarity , integrity and empathy , which are considered to be of the highest level, in her speech to demonstrate politeness and formality during a formal occasion.
60.	And I understand how it's so easy to become disillusioned , so tempting to allow apathy to set in.	Intensifiers (2) Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The use of intensifiers so in this utterance to emphasize Oprah's utterance. She wanted to tell how easy to feel disappointed and how tempting to be apathy.  In addition, Oprah used the word disillusioned which was at the highest level of vocabulary. In this situation, Oprah said that it is easy to feel disappointed. Instead of using the word disappointed , Oprah prefer to use the word disillusioned which is in the C2 level. It indicate that Oprah wanted to use the standard form due to the situation of the event.
61.	Because anxiety is broadcast	Hypercorrect	The use of the correct on 157 channels, 24 hours a day, all night long.	Grammar (1)	pattern of simple present tense showed that Oprah was in formal occasion that required her to use standard form to show respectful.

62.	But these times,	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah emphasized the word these to strengthen her utterance that this is the time.
63.	these times are here to let us know	Emphatic Stress (1)	The emphasis of word these to tell the audience that this is the time. Oprah emphasized that word to attract audience' attention.
64.	that we need to take a stand for our right to have hope	Emphatic Stress (6)	In this utterance, Oprah uttered a sentence we need to take a stand . Oprah uttered this sentence by emphasizing each word. This indicates that the sentence is important so the audience needs to pay attention to the sentence in order to get the message of the utterance.
65.	is gonna follow you throughout your life.	Emphatic Stress (1)	To make sure that the audience understood and responded to the message, Oprah used emphatic stress.
66.	You put your honor where your mouth is.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1) Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah used two features in this utterance i.e hypercorrect grammar and emphatic stress. Oprah used hypercorrect grammar especially the correct pattern of simple present tense to show respect, polite and formality during her formal speech.  Moreover, Oprah used emphatic stress to strengthen her utterances so the audience could get the point of the utterance.

67.	Put your honor where your mouth is.	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah emphasized the word honor to make a point of her utterance so the audience could take it seriously.
68.	When you give your word, keep it, show up, do the work,	Emphatic Stress (3)	In this utterance, Oprah wanted to tell the audience especially the graduates that when you do something, you need to keep it, show up and do that work. Therefore, Oprah stressed the importance word such as keep , show and do to show the point of the utterance.
69.	and then you'll begin to draw strength from the understanding	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah used emphatic stress to make sure that the message of the utterance was delivered to the audience.
70.	the true knowing that history is still being written .(present continous passive)	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	In this utterance, Oprah used the correct pattern of present continuous tense in passive voice. She used the correct grammar due to her speech which was in formal event. She wanted to show politenes and formality.
71.	You build a legacy not from one thing, but from everything .	Hypercorrect Grammar (1) Emphatic Stress (1)	Hypercorrect grammar appeared in this utterance. Oprah used the word legacy which was one of the C2-level word in order to show formality and respect to the audience.  Oprah stressed the word everything to describe that legacy is build from everything you touch. She wanted the audience to pay attention to that point.

72.	I remember when I just opened my school in 2007 I came back and I had the great joy of sitting at Maya Angelou's table.	Empty adjectives (1)	The use of the empty adjective great in this utterance to express Oprah's emotional reaction and feeling about sitting at Maya Angelou's table. She felt happy about that.
73.	Oh Maya, the Oprah Winfrey Leadership Academy that's gonna be my greatest legacy	Empty adjectives (1) Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The empty adjective greatest was used as admiration of what she has done. She opened a school called the Oprah Winfrey Leadership Academy and it helps many girls. She feels proud of that legacy.  The word legacy was one of the C2-level word based on Cambridge Dictionary. Oprah used standard and proper word to show that she respect the audience and to condition herself who was at a formal event.
74.	I remember she was standing at the counter making biscuits and she turned,	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The pattern of this utterance is s+to be (was)+present participle+adv. It was kind of correct pattern of past continuous which used when describing an action that happening in the past. Oprah used this kind of hypercorrect grammar due to the formal situation when she delivered the speech.
75.	'you have no idea what your legacy will be.'	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	According to Cambridge Dictionary, the term legacy was a C2-level word. Oprah positioned herself as a speaker at a formal occasion by using formal language to demonstrate her respect for the audience.

76.	I said excuse me ?	Superpolite Forms (1)	In this utterance's context, Oprah used the phrase excuse me to show that she did not agree about what Maya Angelou said. She expressed her disagreement politely rather than angrily or saying harsh words
77.	I just opened the school and these girls and it's goinna be...' And she said 'you have no idea what your legacy will be because your legacy is every life you touch,	Hypercorrect Grammar (2)  Emphatic Stress (1)	In order to show politeness and formality during her speech at a formal event, Oprah used the word legacy , which is at the highest level.  Moreover, Oprah stressed the word every . In this context, Oprah wanted to tell that our legacy is from everything we touch in life. She emphasized that word so the audience could pay attention to that word.
78.	And it's true you can't personally stop anybody from walking into a school with an assault rifle, nor can you singlehandedly ensure that your mothers and your grandmothers fought so hard for will be preserved for the daughters	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)  Intensifiers (1)	Oprah used the highest level vocabulary i.e assault in her utterance. She used it because she wanted to be formal and educated during her speech in formal occasion. In this utterance, Oprah also used intensifiers. The word so was to modify the word hard . She used intensifiers so to express her emotional message which described how hard the mother and grandmother fought for the daughters.

79.	what gridlock could we eradicate	Emphatic Stress (1)  Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Emphatic stress was used to reinforce the point of the utterance. Hypercorrect grammar was used to show politeness. It can be indicate by using the correct word that appropriate in formal situation.
80.	if we were to join forces and work together in service of something greater than ourselves?	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used the highest level of vocabulary to show politeness due to her situation when delivered the speech which was in formal event.
81.	you know my deepest satisfaction	Empty adjectives (1)	The empty adjective deepest was used to express Oprah's emotional reaction about how deep her satisfaction.
82.	and my biggest rewards have come from exactly that.	Empty adjectives (1)	Oprah used the word biggest to modify the word rewards to express how big her reward. This indirectly showed that she admired herself because of the reward.
83.	there are rumors from my last big speech have finally died down ,	Empty adjectives (1)  Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The use of the empty adjective big was to described the situation of the speech. It showed Oprah's admiration of her big speech. The use of hypercorrect grammar died down was to indicated that Oprah used correct vocabulary when delivering a formal speech due to the audience which was unknown, so it was necessary to be polite and respectful.

84.	Vote! Vote! Vote!	Emphatic Stress (3)	Oprah used emphatic stress in this utterance. It can be seen from the emphasis of each word and even repeat it twice. It indicated how important those words. Oprah wanted the audience to pay attention to those important words.
85.	Pay attention to what the people who claim to represent you are doing and saying in your name and on your behalf.	Emphatic Stress (1)	Emphatic stress are used to strengthen the utterance so that the audience could get the message of the utterance.
86.	They represent you and if they've not done right by you, if their policies are at odds with your core beliefs,	Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	This utterance contains two kinds of hypercorrect grammar. First, the use of simple present tense. Second, the use of correct and standard vocabulary. Both were used to show politeness which in this case, Oprah delivered her speech in formal occasion.
87.	thank you Michelle Obama,	Superpolite Forms (1)	As a form of superpolite, Oprah thanked to Michelle Obama. In this case, Oprah did not give the reason why she thanked to Michelle Obama but the writer assumed that Michelle Obama might have done something to Oprah so she thanked her.
88.	we go to the polls	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used simple present tense correctly in this sentence. It indicated that she applied hypercorrect grammar in her utterance due to her speech in formal event.
89.	People die for that right.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Hypercorrect grammar was used to show

			politeness. In this utterance, Oprah used correct pattern of simple past tense.
90.	They died for that right. I think about it every time	Hypercorrect Grammar (2)	Oprah applied hypercorrect grammar in this utterance. She used the correct tenses which were simple past and simple present tense. The use of hypercorrect grammar to show politeness especially Oprah's situation which was in formal situation.
91.	I cast a vote.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	This utterance contains hypercorrect grammar which was the use of highest level of vocabulary. Oprah used it due to her speech in formal occasion so she need to be polite, formal and respect the audience.
92.	uhh.. before i go, eat a good breakfast.	Hedges or fillers (1)	Oprah used the filler uhh to give her a time to think about the next idea so she can avoid harsh language or give the best idea.
93.	It really pays off.	Intensifiers (1)	Oprah's words were emphasized by the use of intensifiers really.
94.	Say thank you to people and actually really mean it Ask for help when you need it	Intensifiers (1)	Oprah used the intensifiers really to emphasize the meaning of the phrase mean it. It indicated that the phrase was important so the audience could pay attention to it.
95.	Just sit on it really	Intensifiers (1)	The use of the intensifier really in this utterance was used to emphasize the phrase just sit on it which was the important point of the utterance so the audience could take it seriously.

96.	and if you're fighting with someone you really love, for God's sakes, find your way back to them because life is short even on our longest days.	Intensifiers (1) Emphatic Stress (1)	The intensifiers was used to emphasize the speaker's utterance and emotional message. In this utterance, Oprah used the word really to emphasize the point of the utterance which refer to the word love. Emphatic stress was used to strengthen the utterance. Oprah used emphatic stress in the phrase for God's sakes to convince the audience that this was important and they need to take it seriously.
97.	So do the right thing especially when nobody's looking.	Emphatic Stress (1)	The emphasis of the word especially to make the utterance strong so the audience could pay attention to it.
98.	And while I'm at it, do not equate money and fame with accomplishment and character because I can assure you based on the thousands of people I've interviewed one does not automatically follow the other.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The use of hypercorrect grammar to show politeness. In this utterance, Oprah used proper vocabulary in order to be polite to the audience.
99.	Something else, Something else you need to know this: your job is not always going to fulfill you.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used the word going instead of goin' which was less suitable in formal situation. She was being polite and formal during her speech in formal event.
100.	Other days you may not feel like going to work it all,	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	In this utterance, Oprah used the word going without omitting the final sound 'g. It indicated that Oprah used the appropriate word when delivering her speech which means she tried to be formal and polite to the audience.

101.	And remember that your job is not who you are, it's just what you're doing on the way to who you will become.	Emphatic Stress (2)	Oprah stressed certain words in this utterance which was the word job and who . Oprah emphasized those words to make a point of her utterance.
102.	Every remedial chore, every boss who takes credit for your ideas, that is going to happen.	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	In this utterance, Oprah used the standard form of going instead of goin' . Besides, Oprah prefer to use going to instead of the colloquial gonna . The use of these hypercorrect grammars are because Oprah wanted to be formal and polite considering that she was giving a speech in the formal event.
103.	and the number one lesson I could offer you where your work is concerned has this become so skilled, so vigilant, so flat out fan..tastic at what you do that your talent cannot be dismissed.	Intensifiers (3) Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah used intensifiers so to strengthen the meaning of the word that follows. In addition, Oprah also used emphatic stress in word cannot to make the point of her utterance.
104.	not someone else's imitation of you	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The use of the word imitation which was C2-level vocabulary signified that Oprah applied hypercorrect grammar in this utterances. The use of hypercorrect grammar was to show politeness and formality.
105.	I was 19 moved to an anchor by the time I was 20	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The word anchor , based on Cambridge dictionary, was at C2-level vocabulary which was the highest level. Oprah chose that word because she wanted to be polite and formal when delivering her speech in formal occasion.

106.	and I was just pretending to be Barbara Walker Walters	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	In this utterance, Oprah used the pattern of past continuous tense which indicated by the pattern s+to be+present participle. The use of the correct pattern of this sentence showed politeness especially to the audience.
107.	I was just trying to talk like Barbara acting like Barbara hold my legs like Barbara	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Hypercorrect grammar was used in this utterance which indicated by the use of correct pattern of past continuous. Hypercorrect grammar used to show politeness.
108.	ahh and I was on the air and I hadn't read the copy fully and I called Canada Canada	Hedges or fillers (1)	The fillers function in this statement is to provide time to think about the next idea or statement to be given to the addressee. In short, the use of fillers in Oprah's speech serves to give a moment to think in order to give a good idea or word so as to avoid a rude statement.
109.	and I did (simple past v2) that on the air	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	This utterance contains correct pattern of simple past which used to show that Oprah being polite and formal to the audience.
110.	and that little break through that little crack that little moment that I stopped pretending allowed the real me to come through	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The use of hypercorrect grammar can be seen by the use of appropriate vocabulary especially when use it in formal occasion. It can showed that Oprah respect the audience.

111.	you will do that through your work in your art through your relationships in your love	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Oprah used the correct pattern of future tense in this utterance. The use of correct tense showed that Oprah respected the audience by using correct grammar.
112.	I hope that when you go you go all in	Emphatic Stress (1)	Emphatic stress was used to strengthen the meaning of the utterance so the audience can received the meaning of the utterance appropriately.
113.	and that your education helps you to walk that road with an open discerning mind	Emphatic Stress (2)	The use of emphatic stress in certain word was to attract audience's attention that those words were important.
114.	discernment is what we're missing	Emphatic Stress (2)	The emphasis of the word discernment indicated that it was the important word. Oprah emphasized that word to strengthen her utterance.
115.	and that privilege obligates you to use what you've learned to lend a hand to somebody who doesn't get to be here	Emphatic Stress (3)	Oprah stressed certain words in this utterance to make point of the utterance so the audience could pay attention to those words.
116.	so I hold you in the light	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	Hypercorrect grammar was used to show politeness and Oprah applied it in her formal speech by using the correct pattern of simple present tense.
117.	I wish you guts ,	Emphatic Stress (1)	Oprah emphasize the word guts to show that it was important and need to be noticed.

118.	every great decision I've ever made I trusted my gut	Empty adjectives (1)	The use of empty adjective in this utterance was to express admiration for what Oprah has done. Oprah used empty adjective great to express that she had done a good job when making a decision.
119.	and goodness	Hypercorrect Grammar (1)	The word goodness was one of the C2-level of word so it was appropriate to applied in formal speech.
120.	I wish you purpose and the passion that goes along with that purpose	Emphatic Stress (1)	In order for the audience to understand the meaning of the speech correctly, emphatic stress was utilized to strengthen the meaning of the sentence.
121.	and here's what I really hope	Intensifiers (1)	This utterance was about her hope for the graduates. The use of intensifier really here is to emphasize the word hope. It indicated that Oprah has high hopes for the graduates. Besides, the use of intensifier really was also to strengthen her statement in order to attract audience's attention especially the graduates so they would take it seriously.
122.	you have to connect to people exactly where they are not where you are but where they are	Emphatic Stress (1)	In this utterance, Oprah wanted to tell that they were the one who need to be taken care of, therefore Oprah emphasized it so the audience know that was important point.
123.	and I hope you shake things up	Emphatic Stress (3)	In order to assure the audience, Oprah stressed the phrase shake things up even she stressed the word one by one.

124.	and when the time comes to bet on yourself I hope you Double Down ,	Emphatic Stress (1)	The use of emphatic stress helped the audience to understand the meaning of the speech by strengthening the meaning of the sentence.
125.	I hope you always know how happy and how incredibly relieved everybody is in this room that you've made it to this place at this time on this gorgeous day	Empty adjectives (3) Intensifiers (1)	All of these empty adjectives were showed Oprah's emotional reaction to being in this happy and gorgeous day. In addition, Oprah emphasized the word incredibly to show how relieved everybody on that day because they have graduated.